TRANSFILL OF TEACHERS GOING 50 MILES AN HOUR JUMPS TRACK IN JERSEY

Cars Catch Fire as They Leave the Rails and Are Quickly Consumed.

MANY PERSONS INJURED
One Report Is That No One
Was Killed Outright, but Some Will Die.

EASTON, Pa., April 28.—An excursion train filled with teachers from Ulster and Sullivan, N. Y., on its way to Washington, D. C., was wrecked at Martin's Creek, N. J., eight miles north of this city this afternoon.

Three cars were burned. The train came down as far as Stroudsburg on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad and was there transferred to the Pennsylvania Railroad.

While the train was passing Martin's Creek, going at the rate of fifty miles an hour, the cars left the track. Almost immediately the cars took fire, and there being no means to check the flames the wreckage burned fiercely.

Every physician for miles around was summoned, and the hurried to the scene on special trains and in automobiles. Arrangements are being made to bring the injured to the hospital in this city. There are many conflicting reports regarding the killed. The latest report is that no one was killed outright, but that some of the injured will probably die.

TEICA, N. Y., April 28.—One hundred and twenty-five school teachers from the public schools of this city left the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western station here at 8 o'clock this morning on a special vestibuled excursion train bound for Washington, D. C., where the teachers had planned to spend the coming week.

In the party were twenty teachers from the Syracuse public schools, six teachers from Waterville, N. Y., and about fifty residents of Ulster, New Hartford, Rome, Norwich and Clinton.

FALLS OFF BRIDGE 150 FEET AMONG WOMEN IN PARK

Painter Loses Grip on Guy at Top of Washington Span Across Harlem.

John Snyder, a foreman of city painters, fell from the top of the Washington bridge today to Washington Bridge Park, one hundred and fifty feet below. He was instantly killed. Snyder was supervising painters at work on the north side of the bridge. In directing the hanging of the scaffold Snyder climbed over the bridge rail and was swinging out from the ledge with one hand, gripping a scaffolding. He had a guy rope from the scaffold in his hand.

Arthur Fraser of No. 136 North Elliot street, Brooklyn, and Alexander Bolne of No. 12 Peach avenue, Bronx, were working at the block and falls by which the scaffold was being lowered. They saw the foreman lose his grip and disappear.

The painters ran to the edge after securing the ropes. Their shouts were heard by persons in the park below, many of whom were women with children. These, looking up, saw the painter's body come whirling down and strike the sidewalk just inside the picket fence of the park. Snyder was about thirty years old and was married.

When Dr. Schorrer of Fordham Hospital arrived he said Snyder had been instantly killed. Snyder leaves a widow and two children at Glasgow and Taylor avenue, Bronx.

An official investigation of the accident to determine whether anybody except Snyder was at fault.

HOW HIGHLANDERS LOST.

Clean hitting gave the Highlanders two for a starter. Two wild pitches by Vaughn, badly placed, evened the score. More wildness by Vaughn, some hits and Chase's error gave the Athletics five in the third. Quinn went into the box in the fourth.

Errors helped the Athletics make two more.

A batting rally and bungles gave Chase's men four.

BY BOZEMAN BULGER.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, NEW YORK, April 29.—American League fans filled the stands here this afternoon and the returning Highlanders were given the greatest reception of the year. The first appearance of the World's Champion Athletics excitedly added zest to the occasion, for there were more than 15,000 in the park when the Athletics took the field for practice.

The stands overflowed quickly and the stream of bleachers was turned into the center field stands which were just completed, with a seating capacity of 2,500.

A ground rule limited hits into the crowd to three bases.

First Inning.

Hogan struck out. Johnson tossed out O'Driscoll. Collins got a base on balls. Baker singled to the infield, sending Collins to second. Johnson threw out Davis. NO RUNS.

Wolter walked. Daniels sacrificed. Plank to Davis, advancing Wolter to second. The best appearance of the World's Champion Athletics excitedly added zest to the occasion, for there were more than 15,000 in the park when the Athletics took the field for practice.

Second Inning.

Murphy walked and scored on McInnes' long triple into the crowd in right field. Thomas singled and McInnes scored. Thomas took second on a wild pitch. Vaughn hit Plank's bunt and threw Thomas out at third. Hogan was called out on strikes. O'Driscoll was hit by a pitched ball. Collins was also hit by a pitched ball. Baker grounded out to Chase, unassisted. TWO RUNS.

Johnson struck out. Collins tossed

GIANTS 7 BROOKLYN 3

HOW THE GIANTS WON.

They laid upon Barger from the start, clubbing out a lead of four runs, aided by poor fielding.

A three-bagger by Murray scored two runs in the sixth. Brooklyn got three on clean hitting.

Bunched hits gave the Giants one in the eighth.

Special to The Evening World.

WASHINGTON PARK, BROOKLYN, April 29.—Johnny McInnes and his Giants made their debut for 1911 in this borough this afternoon, lining up against Bill Dahlen's Brooklyn Dodgers in the first game of a series of four games. A more suitable day for baseball could not have been devised out by the weather.

By 2:30 every seat in the bleachers and grand stand was occupied, and as the sun shined brightly the extra fee seats, which had been strung all around the field, about 20,000 persons were present.

First Inning.

Devore was hit in the head with one of Barger's fast ones and was knocked out for a few minutes. When he revived he went to first amid great applause. Devore then smashed the ball up the first base line for two bases, sending Devore to third. Snodgrass walked, hitting the bases. Murray dropped out into short center, scoring Devore and Doyle. On Meyer's bad throw to the plate Snodgrass got to third and Murray to second. Merkle was thrown out by Zimmerman. Snodgrass scored. Hildwell singled to center, scoring Murray. Devlin walked. Meyer's hit to Barger, with three poorly to Daubert, filling the bases. Mathewson struck out. Devore ended the inning, being retired by Hummel and Daubert. FOUR RUNS.

Second Inning.

Doyle singled to right. Coulson made a great catch of Snodgrass's fly in deep right. Murray singled to center, advancing Doyle to second. On a double steal force was caught at third. Bergen to Zimmerman. Meyer drew a pass. Murray was caught stealing third. Bergen to Zimmerman. NO RUNS.

Coulson line fielded to Snodgrass. Zimmerman sent a slow roller to Merkle.

Third Inning.

Hildwell tore off a single to left. Devlin low line smash was caught by Coulson. Meyer sent a scorching line to left for a base, advancing Hildwell to second. Mathewson fanned for the second time. Devore was called out on strikes on three curved balls in a row. NO RUNS.

Barger was a victim on strikes. Meyer's rolled an easy one to Mathewson, who threw him out. Toole was an exhibition of club swinging at Mathewson's hands. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Doyle was the third Giant in succession to fan out. Snodgrass was headed to first on balls. Barger knocked down Murray's hot line and tossed him out. Snodgrass going to second. Merkle was dismissed by Tooley and Daubert. NO RUNS.

Daubert hit safely to short left for a

JEFFRIES AT LAST ALLOWS PLOT STORY TO BE MADE PUBLIC

"Conscience-Stricken Conspirator"
the Medium to Tell How the Fight at Reno Was Alleged to Have Been Lost.

STORY SAYS HE WAS STARVED AS HE ENTERED THE RING

Money Paid to Bring Around Condition That Broke Down the Big Fellow Physically.

Sporting men all over the city were peculiarly interested late this afternoon by a report started in the Hotel Albany, at Forty-first street and Broadway, that James J. Jeffries was at last to make public through a third party his version of the causes that led to his defeat by Jack Johnson at Reno on July 4 last.

Since his arrival here, it is said, Jeffries has been approached by scores of his old admirers, who sincerely believe that he was "doped" when he went into the ring at Reno. He was adverse to reopening that sad affair, but insistent pleadings on the part of men who still believe him to be Johnson's superior, broke down his resolution.

For some days, it is said, Jeffries has been working to get the explanation in shape to be sprung for the Sunday newspapers. The arrangements did not contemplate that it was to appear as coming from him. Instead it was to be in the shape of a confession by a conscience-stricken member of the Jeffries' training camp at Woodward, California and Mexico Springs, Tenn.

Treachery in the Camp.

The outline of the story as it was to be published is that this person, whose conscience has awakened after close to ten months, is to confess that all was not right in the Jeffries camp and that the then champion was victimized by those in whom he had confidence.

Of course the details were kept hidden. But it was specifically stated that the conscience-stricken party would tell how Jeff became so ill or was made so ill that he was unable to eat anything for three or four days before the fight and subsisted entirely on water. The result, of course, was that Jeff went into the ring as weak as a baby and was easy prey for Johnson, who exposed Jeff's lack of strength in the very first round of the fight by bending his arm around his back and holding it there.

It was also stated by the gentlemen who claimed to know, that the conscience-stricken one would proceed to reveal startling details of what became of certain sums of money which accrued to Jeff and his trainers and managers before and after the battle. The allegations set forth are distinctly libelous if untrue.

Others May Also Confess.

It is claimed that the statements in this paper on the subject, that the conscience-stricken one would proceed to reveal startling details of what became of certain sums of money which accrued to Jeff and his trainers and managers before and after the battle. The allegations set forth are distinctly libelous if untrue.

In connection with the exposure it was stated that Jeffries' camp men struck in the story that he had been dosed to employ prize detectives to throw some light on it. The reports of these detectives were to be incorporated in the confession of the conscience-stricken member of what happened in the training camp.

Story an Amazing One.

To some New Yorkers who were in Reno before and during the fight the rumored allegation that Jeff had nothing but water to subsist upon for three or four days in advance of July 4th will prove an amazing story. It is recalled that these men remarked, upon their return to New York, of the tremendous appetite of Jeffries right up to the day of the contest. They told of meals he ate that a longhopper could not begin to conceal, and of his marvellous strength and agility.

IS HE THE FAKE COP?

Wearer of Counterfeit Shield Arrested for Passing Bad Checks.

Max Summersville, a merchant of No. 101 West One Hundred and Twelfth street, caused the arrest this afternoon of William Unger, 34 years old, of No. 1483 Park avenue, who is accused of wearing a police uniform and a counterfeit shield, No. 737, and swindling storekeepers by passing bogus checks.

Summersville, who was one of the victims of the bogus policeman, saw Unger passing through West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street and followed him until a policeman was encountered.

KILLED HIMSELF ON TRIP.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Wendell A. Sampson of Fall River, Mass., who came to Washington several days ago with his wife on a sightseeing expedition, committed suicide early today by shooting. Sampson was a railway conductor.
